SALES TRAINING

Based on the unit standard 118037 Supervising Sales Performance

"Our business's future depends on generating maximum sales volumes to enable it to achieve maximum profits."

The aim of this workshop is:

- to focus on attitude towards the importance of maximum sales volumes
- to identify the difference between "order taking" and "selling skills"
- to generate higher sales volumes
- to determine customer's needs
- to understand a customer base
- to find new customers

This programme is based on the unit standard "Supervising Sales Performance" with 8 credits at NQF level 4, and is covered in a 3-day intensive small-group training intervention. On successful completion of the standard, candidates will be able to:

- Explain the effect of sales on the net profit of a business
- Monitor sales performance
- Propose actions to improve sales performance

Experienced facilitators conduct the workshops and the theoretical components are further enhanced by the introduction of practical examples of the different tasks of the candidates.

Assessment requirements are:

- An open-book knowledge test
- Completion of a detailed portfolio of evidence, which needs to be submitted within 6 months of the training .
